The ProcServe Trading Network

ProcServe offers two types of services, trading solutions and trading services. Regardless of what back office infrastructure organisations have, ProcServe implements only those trading solutions needed to complete their ability to conduct electronic transactions between buyer and supplier. ProcServe also provides services in order to implement these trading solutions and exploit their capability. The level of services provided are entirely flexible.

The ProcServe Trading Network is an online collaborative procurement system. Which, in plain English, means it is a system that allows organisations to trade with each other online through a controlled, secure, common set up.
