Private Sector Customers

ProcServe helps private sector organisations save both time and money by streamlining and automating their supply chain and procurement processes. Our best of breed eProcurement technology is also enabling organisations in the private sector to make money by enabling their customers to buy products and services much more efficiently from them. ProcServe manages the complexity associated with purchasing and maintaining different systems and interfaces for buyer and supply side organisations, already enabling the eInvoicing integrations for a number of large international customers. We operate in a variety of sectors including Telecommunications, Manufacturing, IT & Professional Services and Healthcare.
